

- The power of words in the past and now (this is the past problem and the new answer)
- Indian youth discipline do's and don'ts
- Praising achievements do's and don'ts
- Indian education is not just teepees, wikiups, hogans
- Turning around anti-intellectual attitudes
- Home behavior baggage – transcending difficult home realities
- Rewarding achievement = teaching, then expecting, good behavior
- Teaching school, teacher and self-respect
- Establishing high intellectual achievement expectations
- Indians as holistic learners – what that really means
- How to capitalize on Indian Learning Strengths
- Understanding how the fracture in traditional schools happened
- Children of alcoholics and other dysfunctional baggage
- Why non-Indian discipline attempts usually fail
- Training families to use traditional discipline (teaching) methods at home
- Teaching meta-cognition
- Vocabulary consequences
- “Best way to learn is to teach” – peer coaching ways that are Indian and youth reinforcing